NINE DIE IN NEW YORK TENEMENT FIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Nine persons were killed today in a fire which swept a tenement house in Harlem. The ruins were being searched for more bodies. The charred remains of three children were among the first carried from the building. The tenement had about one hundred tenants. The fire broke out on the first floor, swept up the stairway and was soon crackling through the structure from basement to roof. Many fled down the fire escapes, but others were unable to reach them. Some jumped from second story windows to the sidewalk, sustaining injuries. Firemen reported that other victims were believed to have been trapped in their beds.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Official announcement was made here today that Premiers Leygues and Lloyd George will meet in London next week to discuss international problems affecting France and Great Britain.

A BILLION DOLLAR TARIFF AIM OF G. O. P.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A billion dollar tariff is to be the aim of the Republicans when the new administration comes into power next March, Republican leaders here indicated today. Senator Curtis, Kansas, Republican, said today he believed one billion dollars a year can be realized from tariff duties. This would be an increase of $700,000,000 over present duties.

FORMER GERMAN KAISERIN SERIOUSLY ILL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 20.—The former German Kaiserin's condition has improved to such an extent that the former Crown Prince has returned to Wieringen, it was learned today. It was stated, however, that she still is seriously ill as the result of heart attacks.

TURKEY WITH ALL ITS FIXIN'S

JUNIOR SUNDAY SCHOOL DEPT. OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH HOSTS

LARGE AFFAIR

WITH BROTHERHOOD AND PARENTS OF CHILDREN AS GUESTS

Elegant in all its appointments and delightful in every detail was the second annual banquet given last evening by the junior department of the First Methodist Sunday school to members of the Brotherhood, in the banquet room of the social hall at the church.

Besides the honor guests, parents of the young hosts were also invited, and plates were laid for three hundred.

Turkey and plenty of it was the piece de resistance, and all the fixin's, cranberry sauce, mince pies, pumpkin pies, fluffy mashed potatoes with lots o' gravy were plentiful, too, proving that the young hosts and hostesses know how to "do things up brown." Of course, they had the valuable assistance of L. C. Leeds, superintendent of the junior department of the Sunday school in their plans, and the very efficient cooperation of a committee from the Ladies' Aid, to guide them and help with the work of making the banquet the grand success it was.

The Sunday school classes of Mesdames McCullough and T. A. Wright furnished a committee of capable young ladies to wait on the tables and the young hosts chose Mrs. C. M. Crist as toastmistress.

Music was a feature of the festive occasion, and it was the Sunday school orchestra which the boys and girls wisely chose to supply this delightful part of their entertainment. Although the twenty-five members of this orchestra had given the whole of the evening before to practice, they generously turned out again last night in sympathy with the ambitious efforts of the juniors. Their musical numbers added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The opening number of the evening was a selection by the orchestra. This was followed by the singing of the doxology, and then the blessing was asked by Mrs. C. P. Torry. Then came the dinner, interspersed with merry conversation.

When the guests had done justice to the feast, the orchestra gave another fine selection, and then Mrs. Crist, the toastmistress, introduced the speaker in her usual vivid, happy manner.

The first toast was given by Mrs. C. E. Russell, a charter member of the church, whose topic was "The First Methodist Episcopal Church Seventeen Years Ago, As I Knew It."

Then "Onward, Christian Soldiers" was sung, and Mrs. Crist introduced Mrs. T. A. Wright, whose toast was "The First M. E. Church Twenty Years Hence." Mrs. Wright's talk was a bright, clever prophesy in which she projected a trip twenty years hence; in this trip she described different mission stations she visited where she found various members of the Glendale Junior Sunday school grown up, of course, and also found their present pastor, Reverend Mr. Crist, to have attained the dignity of a bishop.

Mrs. S. B. Warner's toast was "The Ideal Member of the Brotherhood, As the Ladies of the Church See Him."

After another fine selection by the orchestra, Mrs. C. D. Lusby was introduced by the toastmistress, and her subject was "Juniors Today; Tomorrow—What?"

Then the guests sang "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," Mrs. Henry Johnston offered the closing prayer, and the young hosts went home happy in the thought of the success of their great undertaking.

Mr. Leeds who was, in a way, "the power behind the throne," shared in the praise the guests lavished upon the happy affair.

GLENDALE WINS

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF CENTRAL LEAGUE EARNED BY HARD PLAY

Glendale High won the football championship of the Central League by defeating Monrovia High yesterday afternoon, 14 to 0. A touchdown was made and goal kicked in the first quarter of the first half and a similar play made in the last quarter of the second half. Monrovia claimed their team averaged 17 pounds lighter than their opponents. Glendale lost only one game during the season, that to Franklin High last Tuesday. This was a sad disappointment to them and their enthusiastic boosters as it was hoped every game would be won. However, no one blames them, as they have played clean, consistent football during the entire season and every victory has been well earned.

Motor From Hanford

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson and infant son Willard have motored from Hanford to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Learned, of 311 North Maryland avenue, and Mr. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson.

LIEUTENANT LESTER MEYER

HIS BODY ARRIVES AT 7 THIS MORNING, FUNERAL SERVICES MONDAY, 2 P. M.

BODY TO LIE IN STATE

ELKS AND AMERICAN LEGION IN CHARGE OF ARRANGEMENTS

The body of Lester Meyer arrived at the Glendale station of the S. P. at 7 o'clock this morning and was taken at once to Pulliam & Kiefer's, where it will remain till tomorrow, 10 a. m., then be taken to the Elks' hall to lie in state. It can there be viewed by all who wish to look once more upon his face. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Elks and the American Legion. The latter will furnish the pall bearers, six ex-officers, a firing squad, bugler and echo. Members of the American Legion are requested to be at the Elks building at 1:30 p. m. as the service will open promptly at 2, so Forest Lawn can be reached at 3:15, at which time two aeroplanes from March Field will arrive to circle about over the cemetery, dropping flowers. Rev. W. E. Edmonds will deliver the funeral address.

Woman Leads Orchestra

Miss May Valentine, who is soon to fill a very important musical engagement in Los Angeles, is the daughter of C. A. Valentine of the Vertmont hotel, Glendale. Mr. Valentine has been a resident of Glendale for a number of years. Miss Valentine completed her musical education in Europe. She has studied with Campanini and recently directed grand opera in New York City. She is the musical director of the Robin Hood Light Opera company which will play at a Los Angeles theatre during the week beginning November 29th. Miss Valentine is the only woman leader in the profession.

THE BIG CHEESE

CHAFFEE STORES IN GLENDALE RECEIVE ONE WEIGHING NEARLY 1000 POUNDS

The biggest cheese that ever came to Glendale is now the center of attraction in the Chafee store No. 30, formerly the Acme. It is three feet in circumference, two and one-half feet high and weighs 994 pounds. It is a New York full cream cheese and is two years old. The Chaffee company received six of various sizes in a recent shipment and is to get several more as soon as they can be had of sufficient age. The company that makes them insists that they do not attain their full flavor until they have stood two years and refuses to ship them until they reach that age. The ordinary sized cheeses are sent out soon after being made, but the larger they are the longer they must stand.

This cheese will be cut Monday evening and sales from it will begin Tuesday morning in both the Chaffee stores. It is claimed that the richest portion is that nearest the heart.

Happy Coincidence

Do you remember how the prophet of the graduating class used to peer into the future on "Class Day" and describe an imaginary journey in which he (or she) met classmates grown older in various parts of the world in divers and sundry stations in life?

It was the unexpected meeting of four old friends yesterday in the information bureau maintained by the Realty Board in the First National bank of Glendale that recalled this to mind. Miss Flora Manning of Salt Lake City came into the bank to see her friend, Miss Halvorson, who has charge of the information bureau. In less than ten minutes, Mrs. C. E. Geist, of Clear Lake, Iowa, and Miss Beatrice Grimshaw, of Chicago, came in together. Mrs. Geist gave a gasp of surprise when she beheld her friend Miss Halvorson, and was too surprised to even gasp when she saw Miss Manning, whom she hadn't seen in twenty years, but whom she recognized immediately.

Mrs. Geist and Miss Grimshaw are on a six weeks' tour of the West. Needless to say these ladies had a delightful "talk-fest."

KNIGHTS OF THE TEMPLE

GLENDALE COMMANDERY NO. 53 HOLDS BANQUET IN THE MASONIC TEMPLE

GUESTS NUMBER 133

KNIGHTS APPEAR IN FULL UNIFORM; BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS; BIG DINNER

Covers were laid for one hundred thirty-three guests at the banquet given by Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, at the Masonic Temple last evening. Only members of the Commandery and their families were eligible to attend. The Knights were in full Templar uniform. Table decorations were carried out in a most original manner under the direction of W. W. Worley. A large, round table had been placed in the center of the banquet hall. A bouquet of mammoth yellow chrysanthemums served as the centerpiece. From this to a circle of Hubbard squashes and pumpkins were draped streamers of yellow crepe paper. These were also draped from the lights to all corners of the room. Dishes of bright red apples were placed at frequent intervals about the table. Bouquets of yellow dwarf chrysanthemums decorated the other tables, which had been arranged along the sides of the hall. Tiny orange-colored bon bon baskets decorated with turkeys and holding orange-colored candies were at each place. Over one hundred pounds of roasted turkey had been prepared, as were all the fixings that go with it. Orchestra music was furnished during the banquet, after which short talks by the grand officers of the state of California, who were the guests of honor for the evening, were given. The following program was then given: Piano numbers by Miss Helene Morgan, vocal solos by Mrs. Catherine Shank, English monologues by Harry James, saxaphone selections by Stanley Baker, accompanied by Mrs. Baker, and a group of three dances by Miss Lois Naudain. The success of the evening was due to the untiring efforts of W. W. Worley, chairman of the entertainment committee, and his assistants.

Under $300 Bail

C. E. Stout, who was arrested Thursday night while driving an auto on the wrong side of Brand and was found to be intoxicated, was arraigned before Judge Lowe yesterday and in default of $300 bail was sent to the county jail. Stout is a laboring man and has a wife and two children, which makes his case a sad one. It is thought the liquor, a pint bottle of which was found in the auto, with only a small portion of the contents missing, has either wood alcohol or some other poisonous substance of a similar nature in it, as Stout seemed dazed when arrested. Judge Lowe intends to have it analyzed to determine this point. Stout is to have his preliminary next Friday.

Hard Times Dance

The hard times dance given by the Yeomen at their hall, 1500 South San Fernando road, last evening, proved to be a huge success. The place was crowded. Music was furnished by the Mercer five-piece orchestra. Patches and torn clothing were the order of the evening. Prizes were awarded for the most original and appropriate costumes. These were won by a Glendale policeman, who was dressed like a typical hobo, and Mrs. Hose Steelman, dressed as the hobo's wife. A jolly good time was had.

One Apple $30

At a meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Murphy on North Brand boulevard a unique method of raising money was introduced in the form of auctioning a large apple sent from Michigan by a former member. Dr. Eckles was the capable auctioneer. The apple was sold and resold about fifteen times during the evening, the last buyer finally cutting it and selling the slices. The sum of $30 was raised by this means. Considerable amusement was created by the spirited bidding, the bids running as high as three dollars. Thirty dollars for an apple? Whew! Is the cost of living still on the increase?

A SHOCK TO SOUTHLAND

BY NEWS OF DEATH OF CHARLES F. VAN DE WATER IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT

FOR THE NINTH DISTRICT WAS WIDELY KNOWN AND HIGHLY RESPECTED

The shadow of grief fell over Long Beach and, indeed, over all of Southern California this morning when the news spread abroad that Congressman-Elect Charles F. Van de Water and his secretary, Miss Luben, were killed in an automobile accident last night.

Mr. Van de Water, his wife, Mrs. R. H. Jackson and Miss Luben were returning to Long Beach in Mr. Van de Water's machine from a dinner and reception given in Mr. Van de Water's honor by the Pomona Valley Republican club last evening. Mrs. Van de Water was slightly injured. Mrs. Jackson was not hurt.

In the dense fog that prevailed last night Mr. Van de Water's machine crashed into a large trailer standing at the roadside near Walnut. George W. Chessman, proprietor of the Silver Peak ranch near Walnut, rendered first aid and took the party in his machine to the Pomona hospital.

Charles Van de Water's death is a heavy loss to this district. He was a man whose sterling worth was so well known that he needs no encomium or eulogy. He has lived for many years in Long Beach, where he was a member of the firm of the Townsend-Van de Water company, a firm that has done much for the upbuilding of Long Beach and vicinity. They also have large holdings in Mexico. More recently Mr. Van de Water has headed The Charles H. Van le Water Insurance company, with offices in the Townsend-Van de Water building on Ocean avenue, Long Beach.

Mr. Van de Water enjoyed the esteem of a large number of friends throughout the length and breadth of the state who will sympathize

TO THE CHILDREN

"THE EVENING NEWS" WRITES AN ARTICLE FOR ITS YOUNG FRIENDS

Dear Children:—

Since this is "Children's Book Day" in Glendale, The News decided to write you an article, all for yourselves, about one or two books and the people who wrote them.

Sometimes when you know something about the person who wrote the book it seems to make it more interesting.

Did you ever know that the author of our old favorite, "Alice in Wonderland," was a professional mathematician? It seems strange, when you first find it out, to think that a man who could write the most delightful nonsense in the language should be a mathematician. Mathematics is such a dry and severe study that one is surprised to find that a man so deeply versed in it is also capable of the airiest play of fancy and the maddest fun.

"Alice in Wonderland" is a book you will love when you have grown up just as much as you do now. Grotesque and fantastic the characters in the book are; they are as living to us as the characters in Dickens. Who does not know and delight in the King and Queen and Knave of Hearts, the elegant White Rabbit and the conceited and monosyllabic, the Cheshire Cat and the Mock-Turtle, the March Hare and the Halter and the Dormouse? Or, in the companion book, "Through the Looking-glass," who that has made their acquaintance will ever forget the White King and the Queens and the White Knight, or the Walrus and the Carpenter?

When Lewis Carrol wrote "Alice in Wonderland," in 1865, Queen Victoria was one of its readers, and it pleased her so she asked him for the other books he had written. In reply he sent her his "Elementary Treatise on Determinants" and some other mathematical books. Of course, the queen was much surprised—and I think she was a bit disappointed, too, don't you?

Lewis Carroll's real name was Rev. Charles Lutwidge Dodgson, and he was an Englishman. Writers often adopt a name which they sign to the stories they write. Mr. Dodgson

HARDING'S SHIP IS MAKING RECORD TIME

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ABOARD THE STEAMSHIP PARISMINA, Nov. 20.—Carrying President-elect Harding to the Panama canal zone on a vacation trip, the liner Parismina was making record time today, more than 13 knots. The ship today was entering the Caribbean Sea. Harding has spent most of his time on deck since leaving New Orleans.

NOT TIME FOR UNIVERSAL DISARMAMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GENEVA, Nov. 20.—"The hour for universal disarmament has not yet arrived," M. LaFountaine, Belgian delegate, declared today while addressing the assembly of the League of Nations. LaFountaine maintained that the economic situation is the most important confronting the world, insisting upon the right of the League to rest upon the strength of the national armies which are at its disposition; then it will be at the mercy of no one.

WILSON TO BE AWARDED NOBLE PEACE PRIZE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 20.—Newspapers here today declared that President Wilson probably will be awarded the Nobel peace prize.

SPECIAL ELECTION

MUST BE CALLED BY GOVERNOR TO FILL VACANCY CAUSED BY DEATH OF MR. VAN DE WATER.

The sudden and tragic death of Congressman-elect Chas. F. Van de Water, referred to elsewhere, has already caused considerable speculation as to his successor. The constitution of the state provides that when a vacancy occurs in the office of congressman the governor shall issue a proclamation calling a special election to fill said vacancy. No primary election for candidates at such an election is provided for, hence the field will be open to any and all who may aspire to the office.

Entertains Teachers

Mrs. Blake Franklin of 398 West Wilson avenue entertained yesterday at an afternoon tea. The guests were teachers from the Columbus Avenue and Glendale High schools. This was the way Mrs. Franklin chose to express her appreciation of their efforts. Miss Josephine Franklin is a pupil at the Columbus Avenue school and Miss Isabel at the High school. Those present were Misses Stevens, Reneson, Magneson and Hunter and Mr. Boughn of the High school, and Misses Fritch and Mitchell of the Columbus Avenue school. Mrs. Franklin was assisted by her friend, Mrs. Price Holmes. A program consisting of vocal solos by Mr. Franklin, piano selections by Mrs. Holmes, dances by Josephine Franklin, and recitations by Olive Holmes, was enjoyed.

Acacia Mothers' Club

The Mothers' club of the Acacia Avenue school held its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon at the schoolhouse. The social hour, during which the members were treated to a tamale loaf made by Mrs. Braun, was brought to a close when the president, Mrs. O. W. Esselmann, called the meeting to order.

The business meeting opened with the salute to the flag, followed by a victrola rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner," as sung by John McCormack. One of the most interesting numbers on the program was an exercise in rhythm given by some of the children. This showed the excellent work accomplished by their teachers, not only in the organized games but also in the free arm movements in penmanship. An opportunity was thus given to use the new drum and the triangle, which helped to furnish the music. Selected recipes were exchanged by the members. At the roll call the members responded with quotations. This closed the meeting.

Milford St. Card Club

The Milford Street Card club met at the home of Mrs. W. N. Rathbun, 319 Pioneer drive, yesterday afternoon. The members present were Mesdames H. B. Fletcher, H. A. McPherson, I. D. Vinton, Reed Heustis, C. H. Thompson, S. C. Leppelman, H. G. Hosford, Strain, Southard, E. L. Young, and the hostess. Five hundred was the game played. The first prize, a luncheon cloth, was won by Mrs. Southard, and the consolation prize, a potato masher, by Mrs. Thompson. Following the game refreshments were served.

DRIVE FOR NEW CHURCH

PRESBYTERIANS IN WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN TO COMPLETE BUILDING FUND

WOMEN VERSUS MEN

CANVASSING COMMITTEE, ONE FROM EACH SEX TO START OUT MONDAY

The officers of the Presbyterian church have completed their organization with which to carry on the canvass for the $100,000 fund for the new building, $75,000 of which has already been subscribed. These facts were received with great applause at a gathering of the canvassing teams around the dinner table at the church last Thursday evening. H. L. Finlay presided and introduced the guest of honor, Dr. John Albert Eby, pastor of the Wilshire Presbyterian church, who made a most interesting address in which he stated that without any large gifts, their membership of only 267 were now erecting a building on Western avenue which, when completed, would cost $200,000. He complimented the Glendale church on what had already been accomplished with so little effort.

Lists of names were given out to the 40 canvassers present with special instructions relative to the canvass which will begin in connection with a special service Sunday morning and will continue up to, and including Nov. 28th, when at the 7:30 hour a grand jubilee service will be held.

The pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, announced that in connection with this program he would preach his anniversary sermon Sunday morning, Nov. 21st, which closes his ninth year as pastor of the local church. The beginning of his tenth year will, no doubt, mark the completion of the large fund, already well in sight, with which to erect and furnish one of the finest church structures in Southern California, which will not only be a credit to Glendale, but to the entire Presbytery of Los Angeles. Present building conditions will give the committees ample time in which to develop their building plans.

All Presbyterians together with their friends are invited to be present at the anniversary service Sunday morning.

During the coming week headquarters will be established at the church. Telephone, Glendale 151-W. Automobiles will be available for the canvassers. Committees and clerks will be present every day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Committees will report at least once a day. Next Friday will be the great checking up night when further plans will be set forth as touching the final wind-up. The "Flying Squadron" will be at work all day Saturday directing every detail of the closing hours of the campaign. The public is invited to attend the grand jubilee celebration Sunday evening, Nov. 28th, at 7:30.

The two committees thus far appointed are on "Finance" and "Building." The former is composed of H. L. Finlay, Dr. J. K. Gilkerson and J. M. Fife; the latter of

PERSONALS

W. W. Jones left Friday evening on a business trip to Chicago. He will be gone about two weeks.

W. S. Gamble and family are moving today from 1028 South Glendale avenue to 125 West Los Feliz road.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Monaghan of 633 North Orange street are celebrating the arrival of a baby girl born to them last week.

Mrs. Ethel Dorr has sold her home at 224 North Central avenue to Chester B. Williams and wife of Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. W. Jones of 430 Vine St. entertained at an afternoon tea on Wednesday. The guests were Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. R. D. Angelica and Mrs. Bert Ward.

There were 16 cases for violation of the traffic law up before Judge Lowe yesterday, most of them for no lights, cutting corners and open mufflers.

Miss Lottie Anglin of Toronto, Canada, who is spending the winter at Long Beach, is the week-end guest of Mrs. J. W. Cotton of 1137 San Rafael avenue.

Mrs. Everett O. Smith is here from Kansas to visit her sister, Mrs. Chas. W. Bacon, of 900 South Glendale avenue. Already she has decided that Glendale is the place she desires to make her home, so Mr. Smith will join her here as soon as he can close up his business affairs in the East.

Mrs. J. H. Franklin of 246 North Central avenue entertained at a one o'clock luncheon yesterday Mesdames Sarah Van Dyke, C. M. Van Dyke, A. R. Chappell and Blake Franklin. The house was decorated with chrysanthemums. The afternoon was spent in making Christmas presents.

Members of the Christian Endeavor Union were guests at a party given last evening by the young people of the Tropico Presbyterian church. Representatives from Burbank, Tujunga and other nearby towns were present. A very enjoyable evening was spent, during which refreshments were served.

Mrs. H. V. Adams, after renting the beautiful home at 436 West California avenue in the expectation of starting for Oklahoma to join her husband, who is now on an extended lecture tour, was taken suddenly very ill and is now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Topliff, 327 Salem.

Sixteen members of the local Knights of Pythias lodge journeyed to Van Nuys Thursday evening, where they put on the third degree work and later enjoyed a very appetizing banquet. The Glendale Knights included Emil Fram, R. E. Frey, Messrs. Melzer, Haines and Nicholson.

Miss Ethel Worthington, daughter of Mrs. W. Worthington of 335 North Maryland Ave., who has been spending several months in Wichita, Kansas, returned last week, accompanied by Mrs. Lowther, sister of Mrs. Worthington, who will visit relatives in Southern California before returning to Kansas in January.

Claude Fellows, formerly of Glendale, who has been employed by the Standard Oil Company at Taft, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fellows of 234 Howard street, prior to leaving for Fullerton where he has been transferred by the company. Mr. Fellows has been in the hospital for three weeks and was blind for seven days on account of gas poisoning.

New homes and business rooms are approaching completion at a rapid rate now, several orders for installation of electric light meters being taken each day by the Public Service department. Those making application yesterday were A. E. Woodmansee, 1148 North Louise; A. E. Ogden, 625 Milford; E. H. Peterson, 1412 East California Ave.; Reichenbach & Son, 415 West Los Feliz Road; F. H. Rittenhouse, 1245 Mariposa; Georgianna Woolley, 1615 South San Fernando road; A. J. Neilsen, 366 West Harvard; W. F. Nash, 711 North Central Ave.; C. W. Spickerman, 131 North Kenwood; J. S. Cleland, 336 Ivy.

Apron Party

Miniature aprons were sent out with invitations to the Women's Class of the Central Christian church to attend an apron party given at the home of Mrs. J. E. Peters, 209 N. Orange street, with instructions that the admission charge would be 1c for each inch of their waist measure. This money was to be put in the pocket of the tiny aprons. Some ladies were very modest about giving their waist measure and paid a sum which would cover the admission many times. In this way more than $30 was collected, all of which was deposited in the new building fund. About forty ladies enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Peters. Flowers suggestive of the Thanksgiving season were used for decoration. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed.

Many have made their reservations for the special Thanksgiving dinner to be served at the White Inn for $2 a plate. At the present price of turkey and "fixin's" this is more reasonable than a dinner can be served at home.—Adv. t4

THE LIVING DEATH

There are two deaths—the one at the grave and the LIVING death.

It is the living death which puts fear into the hearts of men. To reach old age with blasted hopes, broken illusions, terrifying thoughts of the future—is the spectre which tortures millions.

But there's a way to rout the black shadow, so that the millions will grow old with a smile lighting up their faces through the assurance of peace and contentment in their failing years.

Income Endowment insurance will pave the road to happy longevity.

We propose to have our clients "cash in" for THE FULL FACE VALUE at the Bank, not at the cemetery, premature death, of course, excepted.

I prefer to be an underwriter of LIFE insurance rather than undertaker of DEATH Insurance.

SOUTHLAND SHOCKED

deeply with Mrs. Van de Water in her sudden and shocking bereavement.

Mr. Van de Water was a gentleman of modest and unassuming character. He did not seek the nomination as Republican candidate for congressman from the ninth district, but accepted it as a duty when his friends reasoned that his services were needed. Mrs. Van de Water was a great help to him in his campaign, which was conducted without rancor or recrimination and was such a fair fight that this circumstance alone won adherents for Mr. Van de Water in places where he had been scarcely known before.

Pomona was chosen as the place to honor Congressman and Mrs. Van de Water last night in recognition of the fact that it was in that city that the idea originated of having only one Republican candidate in the race for congressman in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, 333 North Orange street, and Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White, of 347 North Orange, were among the guests at the Pomona celebration last evening.

Among the Long Beach guests present were Senator and Mrs. Joseph Rominger, Assemblyman Frank Merriam and Mrs. Merriam, Mr. Van de Water's campaign manager, Mr. Welch, and Mrs. Welch.

"The atmosphere of the meeting," Mrs. Evans told The News this morning, "was pervaded by Mr. Van de Water's habitual high-minded attitude in affairs political as in all other affairs of his life. It was not a hilarious, vain-glorious exultation of victory. It was a warm-hearted, loving appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. Van de Water's success in a fair campaign, Mr. and Mrs. Van de Water were the last speakers.

"Mr. Van de Water in his speech emphasized the thought that as congressman representing the Ninth District he would enter upon his duties with no feeling of personal exaltation but with the sincere desire and earnest determination to serve.

"Mrs. Van de Water was the last speaker. Happiness radiated from her face, and she spoke in a joyous vein. I remember that the last thought of her talk was that a good name was more to be desired than riches."

The good name of Charles F. Van de Water is his children's richest inheritance; an influence, no doubt, that will tinge their whole lives, for it is a good name not gained by the possession of merely negative qualities, but earned by a consistent life of positive and constructive work, the outward expression of the strong principles that emanated from the soul of Charles F. Van de Water.

used the name Lewis Carrol, when he wrote.

Nearer home, in America, there's Mary Mapes Dodge, who wrote "Hans Brinker, or The Silver Skates," and "Donald and Dorothy." These are books every boy and girl likes. "Hans Brinker" has passed through many more than one hundred editions, it has been translated into at least four different languages, and it won for Mrs. Dodge a prize of 1500 francs, and a place in the French Academy, which is a very great honor, you know.

"Hans Brinker" is a tale of Holland. Mrs. Dodge had Dutch ancestors and had studied Dutch history with great interest. This much-loved story is a tale of vivid description, and adventures startling and surprising. There are mysteries of buried gold, plots of the wicked, heroic deeds of the good, and the gay humor of happy people, and there's a love story in it, too. Strange fortune and good come to Hansel and Gretel, but you'd better read all about it yourself, if you've not already done so—and if you have, go get it and read it again, is the advice of

JOSEPH TUMULTY

WILL LEAVE WHITE HOUSE NEXT MARCH WHEN WILSON'S TERM EXPIRES

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—When Woodrow Wilson goes away from the White House next March, his fidus Achates, Man Friday and Admirable Crichton will go, too. Which is only another way of saying that Joseph P. Tumulty will be leaving the arena to take a seat in the bleachers.

"Like master, like man," is the proverb. In the case of Wilson and Tumulty, it is true, with variations. The variations may be due in large measure to the fact that while his chief is Scotch-Irish, Tumulty is just Irish, or as he himself puts it, "Irish with reservations."

But in the main, Tumulty's mind has always "gone along" with Wilson's. Certainly no President ever had a more devoted and loyal lieutenant. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that if Wilson aroused violent antipathies, Tumulty did too. But here another variation comes to light. For Wilson, cloistered as he was, taciturn and rather stern, yearned for people to love him; and while he roused warm admiration, deep respect, almost reverence in large numbers of his countrymen, he was not the manner of man to win other men the way Tumulty can win them. It's the Irish again, probably.

Anyhow, though the President's secretary has been almost as much cussed and discussed in the eight years he has been in the White House as his chief has been, he has also won many warm friends by his wit and the genuine warm-hearted humaness he can display on occasion.

Tumulty reminds you of somebody who does a lot of bathing in cold weather. He's round and pink and happy looking. He's an incorrigible joker. As a mimic, he could make a fortune in vaudeville. He wrote a

Clubs vs. Homes

Men have changed their ideas about woman's clubs. They teach the modern housewife so much of the finer art of living, so much that is of value to the home.

And they are teaching, too, as men have long contended that much of the drudgery women once thought essential to thrifty home management isn't necessary at all.

There's the family washing, for instance. The efficient home maker has learned the true economy of having it done the modern, scientific way. She sends it to our big sunlit laundry and has it done by specialists.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

PATRONIZE AMERICAN SHIPS

That business competition may be sharp and even ruthless between nations otherwise friendly is indicated by the statement of the chairman of the United States Shipping Board advising American exporters to patronize American ships. He intimates that foreign shipping interests, jealous of the business going to vessels flying the Stars and Stripes would like to drive our flag off the sea, and to that end may reduce their freight rates so greatly below those charged by the American merchant marine that the latter will be forced out of business, whereupon the foreigners, left without competition, will raise their rates to the highest point that the traffic will bear.

Developments in maritime commerce have not taken just the turn that our European competitors anticipated and desired. Germany, it is true, has been eliminated from the ocean trade; but the United States, an almost negligible rival in this field of trade before the war, gives promise of being as formidable a contender as Germany was.

The chairman of the shipping board gives out figures to show that the majority of imports now coming to the United States arrive in American bottoms. For example, during the week ended October 30, the last for which statistics are available, the board's records show 158 American ships arrived with 174,844 tons, compared with 109 foreign ships with 85,968 tons, while 131 foreign vessels arrived in ballast as against only 75 American ships. Naturally such a situation as this is making the foreign shipping interests, which used to enjoy so much larger a proportion of our trade, uneasy. Patriotic consideration would seem to dictate that, so far as is possible, Americans give their ocean business to American ships.

ROBBING CHILDHOOD

A recent canvass of conditions in the schools of Cleveland, made by the medical department of the board of education, developed the fact that more than 80 per cent of the pupils were under-nourished; they were either receiving not enough food, or food that was not adapted to their needs.

Health Commissioner Robertson of Chicago makes the declaration that lack of sufficient sleep on the part of children of school age is costing the lives of 5000 of them each year in Chicago alone. He believes that similar conditions obtain in nearly every large city in proportion to population.

Medical authorities are agreed that children of school age should not be permitted on the streets after nine o'clock, for it deprives them of the sleep that is necessary for the proper growth of the body and development of mental powers.

It is not surprising that so many children fail in their studies at school, and the records of schools in the matter of efficiency in mental application are not such as to create either pride or reasonable satisfaction on the part of school authorities or parents. One of the causes of physical and mental deficiencies is indicated by Commissioner Robertson. School authorities, he says, are able to apply regulations during school hours to overcome some of the bad habits into which so many pupils have fallen, but they can only advise the parents regarding the manner in which the time of the pupils should be spent outside school hours.

DRESSING LIKE EVE

When some smart aleck laughs at the old Bible story of Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden, just you laugh right back. It is easy enough to ridicule. It is pretty hard to prove.

But on the side of the story evidence has been found that Adam and Eve very likely did wear fig leaves as clothes. For in India live the Juangs, 11,000 of them, and that's just what they dress in. So there now, Mr. Skeptic.

The ancestry of the Juangs has been unmixed since their first ancestors emerged from the animal life of the jungle. They come as near being apes as any human being can, and still call Adam grandpa.

The costume—from which, by the way, the tribe got its name—consists of two bunches of leaves, one in front and one in back, thrust into a belt of string decorated with clay stems. The dress is changed each day, and as a results the outskirts of Juang villages are ankle deep in the discarded finery.

Emerging from her home in the rocks, the goddess of the Baiturni river, so the legend goes, once saw several of the Juang women dancing without anything on to speak of. She was outraged, and ordered the leaf dress, with the threat that should the tribe abandon it the curse of death would fall on the women and the tribe would be exterminated.

Static Currents

Telegraphers sometimes have been known to strike and when such a strike is in progress very few messages go over the usually crowded wires. But there are times when the operators are strictly on their jobs and yet no messages go over the wires—though there may be thousands awaiting transmission. This happens when the trouble called "statics" gets in its work, and one day last week there was a very serious case of this trouble, lasting an unusually long time.

There was once a boy in college who was asked by a professor the simple question, "What is electricity?" He replied, "I have known, sir, but I've forgotten." The professor dryly remarked that it was a pity—because he was the only one who had ever known. And if the word "statics" had been used in the story the pity would have been the same, doubtless. The great ones may have grave theories as to atmospheric electricity, but at least this is certain—when the force begins to get in its work in certain ways man's great invention that permits the sending of messages by wire has to take a rest. The electric forces at mere man's disposal cannot cope with those of nature. They simply must wait nature's pleasure in the matter.

Static disturbances with the wires is not infrequent, but it is usually of short duration. The recent remarkable occurrence, however, lasted many hours.

The matter of north and south seems, in a way, to bear out the popular idea that static troubles have some connection with the aurora borealis, even though scientists claim that such is not the case. No one really knows a great deal about the old aurora, however, and a mere layman trying to conceive the power that can send great pulsating waves of light over the sky that covers half the world can believe anything about it. As a matter of fact, whether the aurora can be blamed for wire troubles or not, a wonderful display of the "northern lights" was reported the night before the first of the recent wire troubles occurred.—Hartford Courant.

JOS. TUMULTY

speech during the campaign which a score of hardboiled newspaper correspondents agreed was a gem and which later moved an audience to tears. He's a politician 24 hours a day. His only hero is Woodrow Wilson.

One of his principal stunts during his eight years in the White House has been to go into the tiny cubicle they call a press room in the executive offices, shut the door and tear off a line of comedy. Sometimes he was very funny. Sometimes he was rotten. But he never was self-conscious. He always put everything he had into it. It was then his artistry as a mimic came out. Senators, cabinet officers, congressmen, cranks, everybody was grist to his comedy mill. He was always kind about his fun. He never belittled men when mimicking them. If he wanted to criticize them, he chose a different method.

When he goes away from the White House, Tumulty is going to "get on the side lines and watch the other poor devils," he says. Maybe he'll write a book about his eight years as a President's secretary. A good title for it, he thinks, would be "Eight Years of Hell."

The election hit him a sound wallop. But in a day or two he came up smiling, and began to laugh with and at his Democratic friends.

A number of them, fired with optimism, sent him telegrams and letters some days before the election, telling him victory was sure, and even fixing pluralities.

"They got so they believed it," said Tumulty. "Why, they even had me doing it, you remember."

Well, Tumulty has all those telegrams and letters. And one of these fine nights he's going to have the score or more Democrats who sent them out to his home here. And when he has them all comfortable, with cigars and—and everything, he's going to read them their telegrams and letters.

All men may be created free, but their equality depends on what they are willing to do for themselves.

BEVERLY HILLS AUTO RACES

SOME GREAT SPORT AT THE NEW SPEEDWAY; RACERS HAVE ARRIVED

It has been definitely decided that the big championship race to be held at Beverly Hills on Thanksgiving day will start at 1:30 sharp. According to Speedway officials the fast cars should swing into their final lap around the wooden bowl shortly after 4 o'clock. This arrangement will permit those who have been accustomed to celebrating "Turkey day" in the usual manner to do full justice to the spread either before the race or after.

The track will be thrown open at 9 o'clock in the morning for those who wish to look over the aero show on the infield and at noon exactly Barr's flying circus will attempt to heave a few thrills into the multitude, their death-defying exhibition coming to an end before the race starts, according to Dick Ferris, who is promoting the aero show.

The selection of Eddie Rickenbacker to referee the event is most popular, and Charles Root and Stan Mitchell will make a handsome pair of honorary referees, having served actively as referees at previous Speedway events. Rickenbacker, true to his reputation as America's foremost birdman, will fly down to the local track from San Francisco.

Entries for the big race have already closed and it is hardly expected there will be any surprises as the list of eligibles has been gone over very carefully by Secretary A. M. Young, and any who didn't have sufficient class to compete with the best in the world have been politely requested not to embarrass the management by trying to make an official entry.

J. A. Thiele, one of the unknown entries, arrived Thursday afternoon and was out for practice yesterday. Thiele's entry would not have been accepted had he not been vouched for by Fred Duesenberg, who asserted that Thiele's car was just as good as the ones that Jimmy Murphy, Eddie O'Donnell, Roscoe Sarles and Eddie Miller will drive in the big event.

Never before has so much rivalry existed between the drivers. The fact that the prize purse—some $35,000—is one of the largest ever hung up for a 250-mile race, possibly has a lot to do with this. But the title of the National Speedway Champion for 1920, which will be definitely decided by the outcome of the Turkey day classic, is something that every pilot is out to get and there are bound to be some thrilling brushes.

Starter Fred Wagner of New York and Contest Chairman Richard Kennell, of the American Automobile Association, are due in today from the East. Barney Oldfield, veteran driver and cigar-chewing champion of the world, is also in town and will pace the field in its preliminary lap around the lumber loop.

NEW METHOD OF DEMONSTRATING

FAMOUS STUDEBAKER AUTOMOBILE INTRODUCED IN THIS VALLEY BY

PACKER & WHITE CO.

YOU ARE INVITED TO TAKE A CAR OUT AND BE YOUR OWN DEMONSTRATOR

The Packer & White Auto Company, corner of Brand Boulevard and Colorado street, has introduced a unique and effective method of convincing prospective purchasers of a motor car of the merits of the Studebaker automobile.

This concern invites you to take a Studebaker and drive it yourself without placing yourself under any obligation to buy it. You can choose your own roads on which to try out the car and there will be no one connected with the company with you to influence you in forming your judgment of the car. This is more than fair, isn't it? But the Packer & White Auto Co. is so convinced of the great merits of the Studebaker that it is willing for you to form your own judgment of the car without any suggestion from a salesman.

If you will call up Glendale 234 a Studebaker will be sent to your door for you to try out.

A Studebaker Light-Six was sold this week to Miss Beede Metcalf of 240 North Maryland avenue.

In design, performance, and quality of materials, Studebaker cars are first grade and the prices at which they are sold, when figured on a basis of price per pound of car weight will compare favorably with the prices of heavier cars, which, because of heavy weight, frequently sell at much higher prices.

Studebaker maintains one of the largest and most completely equipped laboratories in the automobile industry. Special formulae for Studebaker steels are worked out in these laboratories, and steels are tested and analyzed upon delivery at the factories to make certain that they conform to the specifications.

Studebaker owns extensive heat-treating plants, where all steel parts are treated and hardened to withstand severe strains and long wear.

Many of the heat-treating methods which are now standard in the automobile industry were developed in Studebaker laboratories and plants.

Studebaker owns its foundries, forge plants, stamping plants, spring plants, and body shops.

The frames of Studebaker cars have been developed through many years of concentrated study, and are sturdy and strong enough to meet all requirements.

Studebaker bodies are designed by Studebaker body engineers and built complete in Studebaker plants. Twenty-four paint and varnish operations are applied in finishing Studebaker bodies, the result being a permanent and beautiful finish of the highest possible quality.

The paneling and beautifully moulded fenders of Studebaker cars are designed and made in Studebaker factories.

Being complete manufacturers and one of the world's largest and oldest institutions, Studebaker makes its parts accurately according to its own designs and requirements, and of the best possible grades of materials.

All parts of the Studebaker cars are built to harmonize perfectly with all other parts, thus perfect functioning of moving parts and consequent smoothness of operation is made possible by the complete supervision of one organization under one executive direction with one engineering staff, one purchasing power and one production management.

"STORY BATERY" IS A MISNOMER

"A STORAGE BATTERY DOES NOT STORE ELECTRICITY AT ALL," SAYS EXPERT

"According to the experts, a storage battery doesn't store electricity at all," says E. W. Crzek, Willard service station dealer at South Brand and Colorado, "but the term describes the piece of automobile equipment well enough so that everybody knows what you mean.

"What really happens inside the battery is a chemical change involving the lead, lead compounds and the acid of the solution. This chemical change is forced along by the charging generator. As soon as the battery is called on to light the lights, spin the starter or do any other work, the chemical energy is released and produces the required electricity.

"Though the process is quite complicated, the battery is remarkably simple and needs little attention. As long as the charge is kept up to above the 1.250 mark on the hydrometer, and the battery solution is kept three-eighths of an inch above the tops of the insulators, the car owner can feel that he is giving proper attention to this vital part of his car."

RACING RESULTS IN MOTOR PERFECTION

SPEED CONTESTS PROVE THAT BRUTE SIZE NOT ESSENTIAL TO PERFORMANCE

RACING RESULTS—AUTO

"Racing is the crucible that has brought about the present perfection of the motor car," declared Mr. Felts, of Chambers & Felts, local agents for the Hudson and Essex. "Almost every advancement of the designer's art has come from the experience gained through speed and endurance contests.

"The quick detachable rim, the use of special steels to obtain lightness and the building of stream-line bodies to decrease wind resistance, are examples of some of the many advancements which have come from the lessons learned in racing which have benefited every motorist.

"At this year's Indianapolis race, for instance, the size of the motors was cut almost in half, yet these cars proved their ability to out-perform the larger engines of other years. The smaller engines cut the pit stops in half and, as a result, the average miles per hour was greater than last year when the cars made 106 stops at the pits. This year only fifty-eight stops were made.

"The lesson is plain and it is that mere size can no longer be taken as a criterion of motor car performance. To the motor car users it means the coming of an era of lighter cars of greater performance, of more dependability and of superior economy.

"The Indianapolis race only served to drive home the lesson already taught by the achievements of the Essex. Although the motor of the Essex is actually smaller than those used at Indianapolis, its wonderful performance was shown on the Cincinnati Speedway when it set a new world's long distance endurance mark by averaging more than sixty miles an hour for fifty hours during which time it covered 3037 miles.

"And the Essex which did this was a stock car in every particular and had to contend against the worst possible weather conditions."

DISQUIETING NEWS ABOUT SUSPENSIONS

IT IS CLAIMED THAT MANY FACTORIES WILL CLOSE DOWN PERMANENTLY

Some disquieting news reaches the automobile editor of The Evening News through an Eastern source that is considered high, but not infallable.

Many of the automobile factories are closing down for the purpose of taking inventories, and it is hinted that several of them may not resume operations. It is said that a tight money market in the East is partly responsible for this condition of affairs just at this time.

It is well known that automobile competition is becoming more sharp each year. The larger and more substantial companies are bringing their cars up to the very highest standard and at the same time bringing the selling price down to the lowest figures consistent with a safe business.

This is bringing trouble to the weaker companies, who cannot keep up the pace. And then the manufacture of many different makes of cars is becoming concentrated; in other words, many of the old-time companies are being merged into a very few immensely rich companies, like the General Motors Company, for instance, which already controls many well-known cars. As a result of all this it is claimed that many of the weaker concerns are going to be crowded "out of the running." It is predicted by some that within the next year there will be many "orphan" cars running around—cars whose manufacture will have been suspended.

Of course, the well-established companies turning out popular cars will not be affected.

Creditor—It's put off and put off until I'm sick and tired of it. I suppose I shall have to wait until the day of judgment for what you owe?

Debtor (resuming work)—Er—yes. Better call late in the day, though.

FROM ELEPHANTS TO DODGE SEDANS

THE DESIRE OF MAN TO TRAVEL IN LUXURY IS FULLY SATISFIED

The Geo. E. Clayton agency of 145 South Brand avenue sold two Dodge touring cars this week to Burbank people.

The sedan type of airplane is only another step in the refinement of travel. From the time when back in the dawn of history the Indian kings rode in tapestry covered palaquins on the backs of elephants to the luxuriously appointed sedan and enclosed airplane of today, the desire of man has been to travel and to do so with the utmost comfort.

Born of twin desires, the desire to roam and the desire for comfort at all times, the all-steel sedan airplane and the four-door Dodge Bros.' sedan are but the culmination of these two desires.

The four-doors render the Dodge Bros.' sedan easily accessible of entrance or exit, and together with its body luster and economical cost of operation and lasting owner satisfaction accounts for the extreme popularity of Dodge Bros.' cars.

Mr. Clayton, the local representative of the Dodge, says that business is picking up in good shape and he anticipates an unusual number of sales this winter.

The chief anxiety of many persons with a thirst is not what, but where.

L. N. HAGOOD SAYS NO ROYAL ROAD TO KNOWLEDGE OF WORKING OF AUTOS

"Many a motorist has learned by sad experience that there is no royal road to knowledge as regards the workings of an automobile," says L. N. Hagood, distributor for the Stephens Salient Six in Glendale.

"It takes time and study to acquire a thorough understanding of a motor's mechanism; also a great deal of practical experience under actual working conditions.

"The racing game puts the automobile to the most severe test possible, and the pilots of those speed chariots learn a great deal which the average motorist does not acquire in a lifetime. Teddy Tetzlaff, veteran of some of the most thrilling races of the track, has secured his knowledge of the motor by hard, cold experience. Teddy's mechanical skill is now at the disposal of the public, for he is operating a service station and is making a specialty of curing motor troubles."

Of particular interest to Stephens Salient Six owners is the announcement that Tetzlaff is now co-operating with the Stephens distributors in Southern California in rendering service for this popular six. Eight years may or may not seem to be a great length of time; it depends on how it is spent. Eight years on the automobile race track assumes far greater proportions than an equal length of time passed in some more complacent occupation. Tetzlaff spent this number of years pounding the track, and when Teddy stepped into his car it was a safe bet that the throttle would be wide open.

Among his triumphs are the winning of the world's stock car record in 1910, the world's road record in 1912, the Indianapolis Speedway cup and three first places in as many years at Tacoma. Teddy retired from the track in 1917.

In speaking of the Stephens Salient Six Tetzlaff says: "Balance has been obtained in the Stephens throughout by an ideal distribution of weight and the whole car is constructed to afford easy riding qualities, economy in tires, fuel consumption and endurance in the long run."

Men who have had wide experience in the motor field are displaying a growing appreciation of the Stephens, for Eddie Hearne, who will be a contender in the Beverly Hills classic on Thanksgiving day, recently purchased one of these cars for his personal use.

OAKLAND SENSIBLE-SIX OPEN CAR

SERVICEABLE AND LONG-LIVED CAR OF EXCEPTIONAL BEAUTY

The Oakland Sensible Six five-passenger open car, with a record of five full seasons of consistent transportation economy, has entered its sixth year as a finished example of sane and conservative motor car design. Its every detail emphasizes its builders' keen appreciation of personal transportation requirements.

This sensible five-passenger car possesses a dignity and character all its own. Its lines are clean-cut and pleasing, as becomes a well-built car. The foundation for the body is a sill of selected wood, stoutly bolted together. To this sill is fastened the steel outer body, moulded in great presses and electrically welded, binding the whole together in one strong unit.

The same good quality is evident in the upholstery, which is done in genuine leather, because of the long-lived serviceability of this material.

This year's Oakland also has a longer wheelbase—115 inches—which in turn has made possible the lengthening of the springs. In consequence, there is added comfort for the Oakland owner and his fellow travelers, for the car rides easily even under unfavorable road conditions.

In the driving compartment the driver's convenience has been carefully considered. Every lever and control is deliberately placed. Each instrument is located, not where it just happens to fit, but where it is most convenient to see or to reach.

The open car is equipped with a very attractive, well fitting cape top, made of high grade material. The latest design, such as gypsy curtains to the rear top bows, curtains opening with the doors, and other up-to-date features have been incorporated. The top is built in the Oakland shops, and much care is taken in designing same to have it conform to the general lines of the car.

The windshield slopes backward and both upper and lower halves are fully adjustable for ventilating purposes.

The body is mounted on the standard Oakland chassis and the car is powered with the improved Oakland six-cylinder valve-in-head, forty-four horsepower engine.

CARE OF NEW CAR VITALLY ESSENTIAL

MR. TANNER SAYS THAT FAST DRIVING IS LIKELY TO INJURE NEW AUTO

"European manufacturers and dealers take great care to see that new cars get a severe and thorough test, yet they will not deliver a new car if they know it is to be taken immediately on a long tour, where great mileage is to be made the first few days. Neither will they deliver the car where great speed is to be used," says Mr. Tanner, of Tanner & Hill, 237 South Brand Boulevard, agents for the Buick.

"The Buick company gives its cars as severe a test as any cars in the world receive, and knows that they are in condition to go out on the road and show results equal to the best, yet we caution you to take your rides at a moderate speed the first two or three weeks after putting your car in commission.

"When the working parts of any machine are new, there are minute particles which will pass from the different parts in their process of becoming smooth. If the machine is run at a moderate speed these particles pass off slowly and without damage. But with hard driving or high motor speed it is different. They accumulate so rapidly that they do not get away before they have started to cut or rough the parts.

"The Buick builders have already done much toward relieving this condition, by their hard road tests with cars. And after this test they have the car looked over thoroughly to see that it is all right.

"It behooves the use of the utmost care in the operation of your car for the first month or six weeks after it is put in service. Don't try to speed up to forty, fifty or more miles per hour, until the car has been working for some little time and the working parts are well worked in. Don't try to climb the steepest hills you can find. The use of high motor speed on a new car over very bad mountain roads presents possibilities of serious damage to the car which may be exceedingly expensive.

"Care in the operation of a car just after an overhauling is as essential as in that of a new car. Don't forget that it only takes a few minutes of careless operation to cause great damage to your machine."

THE NASH SIX AMONG HIGHEST

MORE THAN SIXTY-FIVE THOUSAND SOLD IN THREE YEARS

More than 65,000 Nash Sixes have gone into owner service during the last three years and in this time this fine automobile has established itself in the front rank of America's leading motor car values.

The Nash Six with perfected valve-in-head-motor is now generally recognized as an especially attractive value at its price. It has given such uniformly satisfactory service in owner use that its high quality is accepted in every community.

The friendship of its owners, built up entirely by the dependable performance of the car itself, is alone responsible for the enviable reputation for sound worth which the Nash Six now so universally enjoys.

Take the earliest opportunity to know for yourself why Nash owners are so pleased with their cars. Compare the Nash Six from every standpoint. Compare its power, its beauty, its comfort and easy riding qualities. Then compare its price.

Before the Nash Six was placed upon the market, it had been in the course of designing, perfecting and refining for many months. Since then improvements and perfections have been made from time to time, but in the main, the car is the same today as it was three years ago. Every Nash is like every other Nash of its particular model. This is, perhaps, the reason the Nash Six commands such an unusually high resale price, even after years of use.

After driving a Nash thousands of miles you are still as impressed with its power as you were when given your first ride in a new car.

It always has power in reserve. In the city it gets away quickly and smoothly after traffic has forced a stop. It will move along very slowly in high gear and accelerate almost instantly to allow you to take advantage of traffic openings. Its steady power is completely and immediately responsive to the driver's will.

Because it has more power, the Nash Six is very well liked by its owners for country touring. It travels along mile after mile and finishes its long trip with the same pleasing power with which it started. It mounts the grades and keeps on through heavy going without apparent labor.

Cord tires are standard equipment on all Nash models.

Answer "Here"

The annual Red Cross roll call is now under way. Until Thanksgiving day effort will be directed to continuing every membership through 1921 and to adding many new names to the almost universal list. It is to be hoped that repsonse will be unanimous, for it is especially important that in its development into a great agency for mercy in peace the organization shall be unhampered. Only if the society is maintained with ample reserves and unimpaired facilities can it hold itself ready for those emergencies which come swiftly and without warning.

The task to which the Red Cross plans to devote itself is of importance to every citizen. It proposes not only to minister to suffering, but to prevent suffering. The field for this labor is vast. The education of the people at large in the fundamental principles of hygiene, the prevention of conditions from which epidemics of disease arise, the ceaseless research from which epochal discoveries come—these are some of the major works. Ambitious plans have been prepared; a start has been made: the work must go on.

Membership in the American Red Cross is the symbol of interested citizenship. So little is asked from each, so much has been given to all, that it is a privilege rather than a duty to participate in the service of love of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

Loyalty the Test

Most persons who are happy have in them those elements of steadfastness and conviction to which applied loyalty gives visible form. It is, indeed, difficult to conceive of any continuous pleasure in an existence not motivated and spiritualized by unwavering allegiance to certain fundamental tenets of established truth. But loyalty to the general, the abstract proposition, is likely to be ineffective—probably as an influence upon one's self and most certainly as an influence upon others—unless it is visualized in loyalty to the concrete issue, the definite institution, the living person.

Every man, perhaps, is conscious of a desire to be loyal to his God, but it is only when he translates that fidelity into a loyalty to his church that his purpose has meaning. Every man, too, desires to be loyal to his country, but it is only when that wish is translated into vigorous, militant loyalty to the responsible agencies of government that his loyalty is worth while.

No man can be "loyal and neutral in a moment," wrote the Bard of Avon. Men who carry water on both shoulders, who are insincere and super-agreeable in their daily conversations, can never hope to command respect or carry conviction in the tests of life. The man who is frankly loyal to those institutions in which he believes and even to those persons with whom he is allied, is the man who is admired, even by his enemies.

For the man who is discouraged, downhearted by the rush of events, oppressed by petty failures, there is no stimulant like the compelling power of an intensive loyalty. Let the man who is not making good in his work dedicate himself to a new sense of allegiance to those with whom and for whom he labors. Out of vigorous loyalty to his fellow workers and his employer will come the spirit of which success is forged. Let the man whose life seems dull and sordid find a loyalty—a loyalty to his home, perhaps, to his city, to his college, to his church—and life will be transformed for him as the gleam of purpose dispels the clouds of cynicism and mistrust. Out of loyalty to others will come that greater loyalty to self that transmutes a person into a personality, a slave into a servant, and a human into a man.

Let us attain to a loyalty and hold fast to it.

Some families find it necessary to economize on food in order to make a good showing when company comes.

HEADLIGHT LAW ENFORCEMENT

H. M. BUTTS OF THE MONARCH SUPPLY COMPANY GIVES GOOD ADVICE

H. M. Butts, of the Monarch Auto Supply Co., when asked regarding the apparent determined effort now being made concertedly by county, state and municipal authorities to put an end to glaring headlights, makes one statement that all motorists would do well to thoroughly comprehend and take advantage of. It is simply this: The lamp that is unsatisfactory to you, the driver, is, in the majority of cases, the very same one that is proving a nuisance to the approaching car. In other words, the headlight that is not serving you is blinding the other fellow.

When you see a dark spot in front of you where the road should be lighted and a fringe of light striking the sides of the road and the trees above you, then you can rest assured that the driver of the car meeting you sees a blazing sun approaching him—providing, of course, your headlight reflectors are bright.

All this is unnecessary and is either caused through ignorance or neglect. The spirit or intent of the headlight regulations, when practically applied to one's own car, instead of being a burden and a restriction, proves to be a veritable blessing—an angel in disguise.

If every car owner would either thoroughly acquaint himself with how to put and keep his lights in proper shape and then consistently do it, or have it done at a place where the necessary adjustments are thoroughly understood, the headlight nuisance would be a thing of the past.

Reasons for defective, deficient and therefore unsatisfactory and dangerous lighting are many. Often, reflectors are dull or useless, lamps are not properly tilted, bulbs are old or not of right candle power and, most common of all difficulties, are out of focus.

This last-named trouble is, undoubtedly, the cause of nine-tenths of all headlight glare. Car owners seem to think that once they install lenses and have the lamps adjusted, there is nothing more to do. But such is not the case.

Quite often customers come in who complain they no longer get satisfactory light although stating that we had, at some time, adjusted the lights for them. Invariably they admit that they have replaced burned-out bulbs and have not had the new ones focused. One thing must be remembered and that is that no two bulbs are the same and that when a new one is put in it must be properly adjusted if the owner desires good light and immunity from arrest.

The "Monarch" has always taken deep interest in the lighting problem and has made it possible for the residents of Glendale to not only have good driving light but at the same time keep out of trouble.

THE ESSEX IS A DISTINCT TYPE

OF MACHINE; COMBINES LIGHT CAR ADVANTAGES WITH COMFORT

The Essex has established a distinct new type among the fine cars of motordom. It has proved that great size and weight are needless to fine car quality. With the Essex you sacrifice no pleasure, comfort, or performance ability that the large, higher-priced car can give.

Of the legion who know and praise Essex performance, none express more satisfaction than former owners of large, costly cars.

At first, these owners were skeptical, now they appreciate the way Essex combines light car advantages with the qualities of comfort and flexible performance they knew and formerly considered exclusive in their big car. They take joy in its liveliness and ease of handling.

And now time has proved how Essex retains those wanted qualities of silence, smoothness and power even after hardest service. Many owners in the first year drove their Essex cars 16,000 to 18,000 miles—some, more than 20,000. Such proofs are convincing of Essex endurance.

You can match some of the Essex qualities in other cars. You can get its speed, its power, even its endurance. But not at its price, nor with its light car advantages of low upkeep and operating cost.

BUICK 7-PASSENGER CAR IS A FAVORITE

FOR FAMILY USE IN CITY AND COUNTRY; A SPACIOUS MACHINE

The Buick is the ideal open car for the family. It is big and roomy, complete in all the details that make for comfort and convenience in city driving or country touring.

Not only is it suitable for the family because of its unusual capacity for passengers and service, but also because of the variety of appeals it makes. The beauty of its long, smooth, graceful curved body, while striking, is still lasting.

Easily controlled, beautifully finished, and solidly built, it is a source of delight for the woman driver. And it is a favorite among young people because it responds to their wishes so faithfully.

Wider door openings and more room in the tonneau for extra passengers have been secured by a change in design. The handy folding seats are so arranged as to give liberal space to all occupants in the rear compartment. When not in use, they may be folded into the back of the front seat. The righ hand rear doorway is lighted by a small concealed light. The front springs are equipped with snubbers.

EASTERN SHOWS LOOM UP BIG

PRACTICALLY ALL MAKES OF OUTOS ARE APPLICANTS FOR N. Y. SPACE

With a list of applications far in excess of any previous year, automobile manufacturers at the general meeting of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce recently drew for the positions they are to occupy at the annual shows to be held this winter at New York and Chicago. The space arrangement at the Grand Central Palace in New York provided for eighty-seven companies, leaving two on the waiting list, and at Chicago eighty-two applicants were cared for, leaving six on the waiting list.

First to draw for space was the Buick Motor company. Among other notable cars that will be displayed are Dodge Brothers, Overland, Chevrolet, Studebaker, Cadillac, Hudson, Maxwell, Oakland, Chandler, Oldsmobile, Nash, Franklin, Dort, Hupp, Paige-Detroit, Packard, Pierce-Arrow, Cole, Chalmers, Reo, Marmon, Peerless, Velie, Stearns, Cleveland, Mitchell, Scripps-Booth, Lexington, Auburn, Columbia, Haynes, Jordan, Elgin, Liberty, Stutz, Briscoe, Grant, Apperson, Stephens, Westcott, National, Elcar, Kissel, Locomobile, Premier, King, Moon, Standard, Case, Templar, Roamer, Lincoln, Lafayette, Gardner, Mercer and others.

There was a general discussion of trade conditions throughout the country, brought about by the present readjustment in all lines of industry. At present about 35,000 dealers are handling motor cars and motor trucks.

There was a discussion of the credit situation, reports on which indicated a decided improvement throughout the country.

Harvesting the Crop

When the German army broke into Belgium and swept through the country one detachment was billeted in a farm house. A private, wandering through the fields, came upon a young girl sowing seeds.

"Yah!" he sneered. "You shall sow, but we shall reap."

"I shouldn't be at all surprised," she replied sweetly. "You see I'm sowing hemp."—From the American Legion Weekly.

Note How Essex Sweeps Nation's Hill-Climb Records

An Ability That is All Important in California Motoring

Just a few Essex hill-climb records, made in a week of nation-wide tests, in which many owners participated, setting marks that have never been equalled.

California — Rim o' the World climbed nearly 5,000 ft. over difficult 8.8 miles of mountain road in 17 minutes, 23 seconds, beating all previous records.

Washington, D. C. — 35th Street Hill, an Essex the first to climb it on high. Tilden Street Hill, 51 miles per hour over top. Same car tows 6-ton truck with load 16 blocks up hill.

San Antonio, Tex.—Record for Belknap Hill going over the top at 40 miles per hour from standing start in 17.2 seconds.

Helena, Mont. — First car ever to cross Continental Divide on high at Priest Pass, 5984 ft. altitude.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Topped Englerts Hill one mile long, 4 blind turns, 14% grade in 90 seconds.

Knoxville, Tenn.— Only car ever to make Main Street Hill from Central Avenue to Gray Street on high.

Bridgeport, Conn.—4 Essex cars broke record on Sport Hill going over top from standing start at 52, 56, 57 and 60 miles per hour respectively.

California motoring challenges car performance with uncompromising tests.

No deficiency is more quickly revealed than weakness on the hills. Many cars that give very satisfactory performance in the flat country, are constantly faced with demands beyond their ability.

It is common knowledge that one of the chief qualities responsible for the wide preference of Essex in California, is its extraordinary ability in hill-climbing. Men go where the road invites, indifferent to hills. And the great surplus power of the Essex meets the unusual task without strain, which accounts for the dependability on which owners rely with unquestioning faith.

SPRING STYLES

HONEYDEW! SHRIMP! TOMATO! RATTAN! CRAZY? NO—IT'S THE NEW COLORS

By "MARJORIE"
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Whilst Madame and Mademoiselle New York squirm through the jams of Christmas shoppers, the fashion world which makes styles is concerning itself about suitable clothes for springtime. Practically every clothing manufacturer is working upon raiment for balmy days. Although they will not give decisive style ultimatums as concerns the coming season, they do lift the cover, so to speak, from the potpourri of colors, line, and fabric and give tantalizing little whiffs of what the feminine kind may expect.

There is a whiff of color. The Textile Color Card Association of America has issued its spring colors. These colors are very gay and rainbowy. Orange-yellow combinations verging from lightest to medium shades are very good. These hues are named honeydew, shrimp, and tangerine. Red-orange-yellow combinations continue in favor. There are three shades of these known as tomato, paprica and pimento. There are some wonderfully soft new dull greens and blues. There are reds ranging from the brilliant folly to a maroon.

Waist makers have selected from this chart five colors which they are featuring in the new blouses they are now making. The five are zinc, a medium gray; honeydew; porcelain, a blue like the china of that name; rattan, a yellow tan; and tomato. The blouses which are being developed in these shades continue the tunic or peplum line, and most of them are slip-overs. Some houses are endeavoring to push back into popularity the flesh and white Georgette blouses. These are made with all the trimming concentrated upon the front, so that the waist may serve as a suit gilet. In fact, this fad of bedecking milady's straight-front is carried out in most of the blouses. Braiding, embroideries, soutache, tinsel, beadings, or appliques trail their festive art across that sartorial expanse, commonly known as the "gravy-dripping region."

Another whiff from the fashion cauldron tells us that both afternoon and street dresses will be mainly made of blues, sand and gray, in contrast to the blouse realm of more garish hue. Dresses will be fuller, even a wee bouffant although the choker collar and basque remain "among those present." Slashed tunics over contrasting foundations will reign supreme. Plaid taffetas in conservative colors, such as gray and blue, or brown and sand, will be heavily used. The waistline may cause a split in fashion circles. Some houses insist that it be normal; others say that it shall be below par and the great third party maintains that waistlines have been, are, and always shall be above par. Thus, of the making of many waistlines there is no end.

Eton jacket suits will gladden the heart of flapper, while the loose kimona sleeves that are prophesied in all suits will tickle the rotund matron. Sleeves, 'tis mysteriously whispered about, will three-quarter length or slightly to the leeward of the funny bone. Many turnback cuffs are flaunted. One manufacturer was bold enough to give more than a whiff of his dainties in store. He has really launched a spring suit. It is of navy poiret twill, eton cut, kimona sleeves, turnback cuffs of paprica duvetyn and lapel embroideries in paprica floss and tinsel.

Wool skirts, such as white serge, flannelette, or old-fashioned flannel, are shown for the summer sports girl. Stitching runs rampant. A white flannel pleated skirt is finished with a foot-high banding of blue checkerboard-stitching.

Hats? Sh- Not a word yet! The milliners of America are really sensible. "Everything in its correct time and season" is their slogan, much to the joy of affluent and not affluent papa who moans that "Life is just one bewitching (?) style-season after another!"

Wise Politician

"I think I'll give up making speeches, and hereafter conduct my campaigns for office silently."

"What's the idea?"

"I've grown tired of furnishing the opposition ammunition to use against me by shooting off my mouth too rapidly and discovering afterwards that I have said something I shouldn't have said.—From Detroit Free Press.

Italy proposes to collect all the bodies of Italian soldiers who died fighting on the mountain front and give them fitting sepulchre on one of the highest peaks, probably San Michele. It is proposed that a simple, noble monument be erected under which will rest together officers and soldiers, rich and poor.

Iceland will have a world's fair next June in Reikiavik, for the edification of the Eskimo.

The recent British coal strike is estimated to have cost 300,000,000 pounds sterling.

If Mexico comes to the United States cleaned up it will be easier to recognize her.

Folks are enjoined to give until it hurts and a lot of persons do not need to give much before feeling a pain.

Deserving a Rest

The conversation around the long dinner table ended, as do most conversations nowadays, with the subject of spiritualism. The guests and the members of the family gave their opinions as to whether or not the dead could communicate with the living, but it remained for "Sweet Sixteen" to present the only original thought on the subject.

"It's hard enough for me now to keep up my correspondence," she said. "When I die I want a rest."

Bison Become Plentiful

One may doubt if buffalo meat will ever come into wide acceptance as a substitute for beef, but it is gratifying nevertheless to learn that the buffaloes continue to multiply and promise to furnish the country a valuable reserve to the ordinary sources of meat supply.

It seems as though it were only a few years ago when we were told that this animal, so conspicuous in the history of the exploration and development of the western plains was doomed to extinction. The surviving specimens were few. Now they have come back in such numbers that many are being slaughtered from time to time for food.

Thanks to an awakened public sentiment, reflected in protective legislation, the people will permit no other valuable animals or birds to come so near to being exterminated.

A traveling salesman died suddenly, and was taken to his home in the west.

His relatives telephoned to the nearest florist to make a wreath. The ribbon was to be extra wide, with the inscription, "Rest in Peace," on both sides, and if there was room, "We Shall Meet in Heaven."

The florist was away and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral.

The ribbon was extra wide, and bore the inscription:

"Rest in Peace on Both Sides, and If There Is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

Store windows are now making it evident that Christmas is just around the calendar corner.

The persons who make the most trouble usually have the disposition to loaf on any kind of a job.

Conservation of conversation would help—too much talk has spoiled many a good thing.
